

CAMP KINTAIL COVID-19 UPDATES

April 8, 2020

Blessings in this unusual Easter season. Wherever and however you celebrate this year, know that all of us at Camp Kintail wish for a deep and meaningful time of contemplation and restoration. Through our social media and podcast we have prepared worship options throughout the Easter weekend. We hope that this helps in your celebration of Easter.

A reminder that the Camp Kintail site remains closed to the public as a non-essential business. Several staff members live on site and they have been isolating and physical distancing. It might be tempting to drive up to Kintail to walk around the site, but we are asking the public to remain at home and off the Kintail site. We can't wait to welcome all of you (safely!) when we are able, but please refrain from visiting at this time.

The Camp Board continues to meet regularly to discuss the summer program. This includes the residential summer camp, the day camps, and the Kintail on the Road program. We know that all many of the camp families are anxiously waiting to find out what will happen. We are committed to making responsible and safe decisions for all our campers, staff, and guests. At this time, we are waiting to see the continuing recommendations from the Huron Perth Health Unit and provincial government. Kintail's Spring Family Retreat from May 8-10 and Junior High Retreat from May 22-24 are now cancelled. We will be in touch with families and campers directly regarding these cancellations.
