

CAMP KINTAIL COVID-19 UPDATES

---

Dear friends,

It is hard to fathom how much the world has changed for us in North America in the last week, even the last 24 hours! The COVID-19 virus situation is evolving quickly. All of us at Camp Kintail are working hard to provide a safe, healthy, and relaxing environment for all our campers, staff, and guests. We have been in touch with Huron Perth Public Health and, currently, they feel it is not necessary to cancel our programming, including the Winter Crafters' Retreat. This is a small retreat, with about 20 crafters, so the risk of infection is low, especially as numbers of those infected in Ontario remains low.

We do understand that some registrants may not want to attend, and if you need to cancel, we will return your full registration fee. It is important that each person do what is best for themselves and their families. Before your arrival, the Nest will be thoroughly cleaned and sanitized. Throughout the weekend, staff will be doing extra sanitizing of "high-touch" areas including bathrooms, door handles, railings, and all food serving areas. If you have any concerns, please don't hesitate to speak to any Kintail staff and they will direct you to the person who can help you out.

We do ask that if you have a cough, fever, or any symptom of COVID-19, please stay home to get well. We are looking forward to this weekend and we hope you are too. Mark and Tracy have a wonderful menu planned and there will be lots of time for crafting and rest.

Peace, Rev. Theresa McDonald-Lee & Johnathon Lee
