

CAMP KINTAIL COVID-19 UPDATE

April 29, 2021

Dear friends,

The question so many people are asking is “When can I come to camp?” All of us at camp wish there was an easy answer. Over the last fourteen months, we have been following the guidance of the Ontario government and Huron Perth Public Health. This means we will be closed to the public until the stay-at-home order is removed. From there, we will continue to offer programming and retreats as they are allowed and we feel we can offer safely.

Over the past year, we have participated in numerous training and information sessions put on by various health agencies and the Ontario Camps Association. We have had time to plan and implement safety practices that have been approved by public health. We have worked to make our food service, activities, and lodging safe for guests and staff. The camp is actively working on improving our facilities to keep guests safe and comfortable, including an expansion of our outdoor dining space, tents, and heaters.

With the third wave and rise of the variants in Ontario, we continue to monitor the situation carefully. We are unsure what the next few months will bring. As always, the health, safety, and well-being of campers and guests is the top priority. We continue to wait for guidance on summer camp. While we are uncertain if overnight camp will be allowed, we are very hopeful that day camp and the Week/End Away retreats will be allowed. As soon as more information is available, we will be letting everyone know.

In hope,
